Dear Chancellor's Advisory Council:

As many of you know, we are in the process of seeking reaffirmation for board membership with the League for Innovation in the Community College, which is required after a change in chief executive. The League was established in 1968 to share best practices and resources community colleges around the world through conferences and institutes, publications, and projects and initiatives. The district is a founding member of the League and has continuously maintained its position as one of 17 members and one of two California districts on the Board of Directors.

Among the criteria for membership is a strong commitment to full participation in League programs and activities. As evidence of such, we would like to include the following statement from the Chancellor's Advisory Council in the reaffirmation self-study report:

Statement of Commitment

We, the constituency groups of the Foothill-De Anza Community College District, appreciate the district's membership in the League for Innovation and the opportunities it provides to inform other community colleges of the excellent instruction, programs and services at Foothill and De Anza. Similarly, we value the resources that membership offers faculty and staff in our effort to continually improve teaching, learning and student services. We fully endorse the continued board membership of the Foothill-De Anza Community College District in the League for Innovation.

Since we are trying to get the report completed prior to the fall quarter when the Chancellor's Advisory Council will next meet, we would appreciate if you would advise by Friday, August 5, if you have any objections, concerns, or suggestions with the statement of commitment as written.

Thank you in advance for your review of the statement.

Warmly,

Paula
